

RÉSUMÉ

María de los Ángeles Lasa (1986) holds a Bachelor's Degree in International Relations from the Catholic University of Córdoba, a Master of Public Policy from the University of Oxford, and a PhD in Political Science from the University of Camerino, with specializations in Computational Social Science, AI, and Geospatial Intelligence.

She began her career as an international cooperation analyst and later held leadership roles, working with international organizations and across all levels of the Argentine public sector. She currently leads the technical area of the Gender Justice Data Hub at Global Fund for Women.

She was a Visiting Researcher at the University of Texas at Austin and at the University of Los Andes in Colombia, Visiting Lecturer at Torcuato Di Tella University, Associate Professor at UCOM in Paraguay, and Assistant Professor at the University of San Andrés. She was also a member of the Youth Group and the Korea Working Group at the Argentine Council for International Relations (CARI). She currently serves as Academic Advisor on North Korean Affairs at the Center for the Opening and Development of Latin America (CADAL) and as Associate Researcher at the Center for Korean Studies at the National University of La Plata.

She is the author of award-winning essays in prestigious national and international competitions, including the World Bank International Essay Competition (Stockholm, 2010), the Ideas4Action International Essay Competition of the World Bank Institute (Brussels, 2010), the UNESCO and Goi Peace Foundation International Essay Contest for Young People (Tokyo, 2010), the Wings of Excellence Award at the St. Gallen Symposium (St. Gallen, 2011), the National Essay Competition on the Korean Peninsula organized by the Embassy of the Republic of Korea in Argentina (Buenos Aires, 2022), and the XXXVI Luis José de Tejeda Literary Prize in the Travel Writing category (Córdoba, 2023).

In 2024, she published her first book, País de vinalón: mi viaje a Corea del Norte (CADAL Foundation), reissued in 2025 by EDUVIM Press, where it ranked among the top five best-selling titles of the year.

She was recognized as a Young Leader by the German Marshall Fund of the United States (2013), the St. Gallen Symposium (2013), the Córdoba Chamber of Commerce (2015), and JCI Argentina (2023). In 2016, she was a TEDx speaker at the Catholic University of Córdoba and at the National Library of Argentina.

She has received scholarships from Fundación Carolina, the Italian Ministry of Education, University and Research, the Fulbright Commission, Chevening, Erasmus+, and the Maison de l'Argentine in Paris.